

Eleventh Grade Literature Plan Writing Prompts

Special thanks to Time4Writing for partnering with Let's Homeschool High School and Homeschool Literature to develop writing prompts. If you need help with writing essays and using writing prompts, you'll find the help you need in this article Understanding Writing Prompts.

Antigone

To uphold moral law, Antigone breaks civil law. Discuss examples of this throughout history along with your opinion.

Babbitt

Babbitt underwent changes in his "viewpoint" throughout the story. Was he a hypocrite or an honest man?

Cold Mountain

This novel weaves together both past and present events what does this imply to Ida and Inman as well as other lives?

Cyrano de Bergerac

After Act III the play changes in tone, explain this change and discuss the implications.

Death Be Not Proud: A Memoir

Throughout the novel we see Johnny mature, explain and discuss this process.

Emily Dickinson

Through a study of Emily Dickinson's writing, what common thread do you see woven throughout?

Merchant of Venice

Describe how this play manages to be both comedy and tragedy.

The Deerslayer

How does Cooper's description of Lake Glimmerglass add depth and reality to the story line?

The Scarlet Letter

Explain the correlation of the use of symbolism throughout the book in comparison to the Puritan's use of symbols. Give examples.

Brave New World

Give examples and explain how the World State treats humans as property/commodities.

Picture of Dorian Gray

Explain why you think Dorian decides to destroy the painting in the end?

Faust

Many critics have often referred to the fact that Faust and Picture of Dorian Gray have many parallels. Give examples and explain how this is possible.